

If there is one metal show that you do not want to miss this year, then it is this one! Avatar, with a theatrical presence not seen to this degree, will invade Louisville on May 7th.

Fresh off huge rock festivals like Rock on the Range and Louder Than Life, Avatar is ready to rock your face off! Prowling about like a ringmaster, Johannes Eckerstrom completely entrances any crowd with his mesmerizing voice, personality, and captivating antics. Hailing from Sweden, band mates John Alfredsson, Kungen, Tim Ohrstrom, and Henrik Sandelin bang their heads in complete synchronicity as Eckerstrom waves his cane as if he is the maniacal conductor of a crazed symphony.

Avatar is utterly brilliant, with hits like "Hail the Apocalypse", the title track of the album that needs to be in everyone's music library. Metal fans everywhere should also be familiar with "Vultures Fly", "Bloody Angel", and "Smells Like a Freakshow".

For more information, visit Terry Harper Presents for details on this show, as well as other upcoming events in Louisville.